The point sought to be established is that the Christian doctrine of human salvation through the self-sacrifice of Jesus Christ, who was both God and Man, has its counterpart in the Vaidik doctrine of salvation by means of sacrifice, Prajápati, the Lord of all, and the helper, feeder, and deliverer of man, being himself sacrifice, that is to say, having sacrificed himself for the Devas or emancipated men, and made himself both mortal and immortal for that purpose.	222
